Section 7: Notes on withdrawal

Withdrawal options

- You may not take any money in cash from your retirement component when you withdraw from the Fund.
- If you choose the transfer option, you must transfer all three your components to the same other fund and you will not pay any tax if you transfer your retirement savings to another fund.
- Cash withdrawals are subject to tax. If you choose to take your full, or a portion of your vested component in cash, it will be taxed on the withdrawal lump sum tax tables.
- All withdrawals that you make from your savings component before you retire will be taxed at your marginal income tax rate and will be based on the annual taxable income amount you provide on this form. It is important that you provide us with an amount that is as close as possible to your annual taxable income. If the tax deducted from your savings withdrawal benefit was based on an incorrect annual taxable income amount, you will have to make additional payment to SARS when your annual tax assessment is issued. Your annual taxable income is the amount you earned in the tax year in which you apply for a savings withdrawal benefit and is:
 - your income from your employment, such as your salary, wages, bonuses, leave pay, and commission, less your deductible contributions to the Fund and any other allowable tax deductions like a travel allowance, plus
 - if applicable, any other income such as annuities, rental income, and income from investments.
- If you do not provide us with your annual taxable income, we will insert R0 as your annual taxable income and SARS will then use a default tax rate (currently 18%) to determine the tax amount that we must deduct from your savings withdrawal benefit. This could result in you owing SARS money when your annual tax assessment is issued as the tax deducted from your savings withdrawal benefit was based on an incorrect annual taxable income amount.
- You may take the total, of or a portion (minimum of R2 000) of your savings component as cash if you have not withdrawn during the tax year of your withdrawal date and if the balance in your savings component is more than R2 000. If you did withdraw from your savings component during the tax year of your withdrawal date but the balance in your savings component is less than R2 000, you may take the total savings component as

Processing of your withdrawal benefit

- If your withdrawal benefit cannot be paid due to a tax problem or the bank account you provided is incorrect or does not belong to you, or does not belong to the person nominated by you into whose bank account the benefit must be paid, the benefit will be reinvested in the default investment portfolio selected by the board of trustees of the Fund and your record will remain paid-up in the Fund.
- While your withdrawal claim is being processed, your benefit will be placed in the Fund's bank account to eliminate the possibility of your retirement savings being reduced because of volatile market conditions.
- If SARS notifies us that you owe them money we will transfer the amount of the tax debt to SARS before we finalise the payment of your withdrawal claim
